THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. A questionnaire has been sent to all directors of scientific institutions of university grade in Rumania. It begins: "To give students more solid instruction and to enrich their knowledge with the achievements of Soviet science by the use of special manuals prepared with Soviet documentation as a basis, we request you to reply in the most detailed fashion to the following questions."
2. After this, there are two sections. The first deals with existing manuals of Soviet science in the Rumanian language. The second deals with manuals now in preparation.
3. With regard to existing manuals, seven questions are asked: names and addresses of authors, the specialty concerned, the faults, whether "collectives" have been established to revise the manuals prepared by Rumanian authors, what individuals constitute the "collectives", the results of revision, and the nature of the Soviet documentation employed in each manual.
4. With regard to manuals still in preparation, nine questions are asked. Among these are: Soviet documentation being used, Soviet manuals that can be used directly, whether a Soviet manual that can be adapted by simple change already exists, what treatises or Soviet manuals ought to be translated by the Ministry for use in each course. A separate note asks for the specialties of the professors in charge of these courses, their political preparation, and their knowledge of the evolution of Soviet science.
5. At the same time, the Rumanian Workers' Party has been instructed to try to get students organized to fight for "Soviet Peace". Committees for "Peace" are to be formed in all university centers. The name of the responsible head of each organization is to be reported. All students and their families are to be persuaded to sign the Stockholm "Peace" Plea against atomic weapons and against the "microbian war" allegedly unleashed by the Americans in Korea.
